

Welcome to Aids to Navigation on the Sea of Life.

At sea, an Aid to Navigation would be a lighthouse, a channel marker, a bouy, or nowadays it could be a GPS receiver.

When trying to find your way through the shoals and reefs of the modern educational and cultural waters, critical aids to navigation would be reviews of exceptional books, recommendations of special private-press newsletters, family help programs such as Your Children's Future, etc.

We wrote these family educational "NavAids" to help you find your way. There are many more excellent sources today, and internet research is far easier and more efficient than the kind of paper and ink research we had to use back in the '70's and '80's.

But today the need for careful judgment and screening is even greater. While excellent material is available, there is a true flood out there of poisonous intellectual and psychological junk food.

Start with these, and continue searching for sound sources of insight and growth ideas for your family.

Enjoy!
