

Welcome to My Future.

These monthly letters are directed to Your Children, with lots of ideas how they can build their own Future.

Read and discuss them together. There's a lot of value here even for children who are older – or younger – than the ones we address. And of course for parents, mastering what your children are learning is vital if you are to keep up with them!

The notebook divider shown below introduced a “whole new world” of expanding possibilities. Enjoy!
